

The Barrhead Church of God in Barrhead, Alberta, is seeking a part-time intern worship leader. Our church is looking to expand and enhance our current worship experience and needs your gifting and talents to provide the kind of worship experience that meets the needs of our congregation. Our current worship style is based on hymnody, but we are hoping to create a more contemporary/blended presentation.

The qualified candidate could be a current or recently graduated worship arts or pastoral studies student. Candidates not currently in a ministry track will be considered if they meet all other qualifications. Experience leading or participating in a worship team is essential. As a Church of God (Anderson) church, we are rooted in a historical Wesleyan tradition, and would like to consider candidates who are in agreement with our core beliefs. We have some current instrumental and vocal talent and would like our worship leader to use the available resources to develop this ministry. We presently have bass and guitar instrumentalists, a pianist, and several vocalists.

We have adequate resources to support the technical needs of this ministry but do need leadership to pull it all together. If you feel God leading you to serve in this capacity, please submit a resume and cover letter, along with links to YouTube or web hosted videos which present your ministry. If you have questions about this position, you are welcome to email us at dwilkins@barrheadchurchofgod.org or call the pastor at 780-284-6885.

This position will require 6 hours per week, which will entail weekly planning and preparation, a Saturday worship team practice, and participation in our Sunday morning worship experience. Weekend room and board can be considered for those candidates who live outside the Barrhead area, particularly if you are a current student engaged in weekday studies. A letter of recommendation from your current pastor or the division chair for your area of study in university is suggested.

We are hoping to fill this position as soon as possible, so please submit your information by no later than May 31, 2024. The accepted candidate should be prepared to begin their ministry at our church in early June.
